Chief Justice.

A call has been made upon Chief Justice Dixon, by a portion of the bar of Dane county and of Milwaukee, to become a candidate for re-election. The chief justice says he is "not unwilling to serve, if re-elected." The democratic convention to nominate a candidate meets to-morrow.

The administration has achieved a "glorious victory" in Kentucky. The democratic state convention met at Frankfort on Wednesday last, but before any important business had been transacted, the assemblage was dispersed by military authority.—Rock Island Argus.

We are disposed to do our ever-copperhead neighbor of the Monitor a kindness, and we therefore call its attention to the following comments of the Chicago Journal upon the statement of the Rock Island paper. The Monitor may safely indulge even an approval of the act of Col. Gilbert without infidelity to its party allegiance, and perhaps will do so if it is not so far gone in its hostility to the administration as to condemn every act of the government in suppressing the rebellion without any reference to its character or the locale or personal of its application. The Journal says:

The Argus is either in sympathy with the notorious conspirators who assembled at Frankfort, calling themselves the "democratic state convention," or it does not know what it is talking about. The men composing that convention do not have the sympathy of the democratic party in that state, and it is strange that any democratic paper in Illinois, but the Chicago Times, should manifest any sympathy for them. The loyal democracy of that state have called a convention, and, when it assembles, no one will interfere with its deliberations.

When the "military authority" of the Frankfort district pronounced the convention in question a "disloyal assemblage," it spoke advisedly. The design of those engaged in it was to inaugurate a scheme for voting the state over to Jeff. Davis. This is known to be a fact, and any loyal democrat in Kentucky will so inform the editor of the Argus, if he chooses to take the trouble to inquire.

The Insurrection in Poland.

We have already published some details of the insurrection in Poland. The Russian accounts report that the rebels have been crushed, but Russian official bulletins are not the most reliable in the world.—The Warsaw correspondent of the Berlin National Zeitung, writing on the 25th ult., says:

"I can only confirm my account of yesterday, that the country is in complete revolt. According to the arrangements of the revolutionaries, the outbreak was not to take place until the 1st of May, but the government themselves have hastened the catastrophe by the unhappy recruiting movement. From all parts of the country came bad reports, one following the other. In Kiel and in Siedlitz provisional governments are established. Fighting has taken place at many points with varied results. All the telegraphic lines are broken, and on the Warsaw and St. Petersburg and the Vienna railways, the rails are torn up and carried off. On the Warsaw and St. Petersburg line the insurgents have burnt a bridge. All the lines have become insecure, and it will cost the government much trouble to become masters of the movement. The insurgents seem to be about carrying on a guerrilla warfare."

REBELLION IN TENNESSEE.—There is a remarkable concurrence among all the accounts we receive in relation to the difficulties the rebels are experiencing in the enforcement of their odious and infamous treason law in Tennessee. The rebel conscription law, so called, is not a conscription law at all, but an edict whereby every man, between the ages of 18 and 60 (we believe that is the range) is declared to be a soldier in the southern army. Its enforcement consists in simply sending out a troop of cavalry to seize every able-bodied white man that can be found, and force him into the ranks. A letter from a member of the board of trade battery of this city, written at Murfreesboro on the 11th inst., says "this conscript law is raising a terrible disturbance with those who are not in the rebel army. Yesterday there came into our lines five hundred soldiers, who had deserted from Bragg's army. They say the woods are full of conscripts and deserters, who are trying to get to our lines for protection. Some say they have been in the woods three months."—Chicago Post.

ENCOURAGING.—Says a Washington correspondent: "When congress shall have adjourned sine die a fortnight hence, the administration will doubtless find itself well supplied with available means, its credit sustained by increased sources of revenue, and a conscription law on its statute book which will insure the future recruitment of the army."

THE SHORTEST WAY TO PEACE.—"Whenever our government is assailed," said the lamented Stephen A. Douglas, "in his last great speech at Chicago, May 1st, 1861, 'when hostile armies are marching under rude and odious banners, the shortest way to peace is the most stupendous and unanimous preparation for war.' Let peace democrats put that in their pipe and smoke it."

GEN. FREMONT.—A telegraphic dispatch from Washington reports that Gen. Fremont has just applied for an "active command," implying thereby that the general is that of his own choice. The truth is that General Fremont reported for duty immediately after he was relieved, and he has since made repeated applications for active service.—N. Y. Post.

BRILLIANT IDEA.—Ex-Gov. Seymour, of Connecticut, recently made a speech in Hartford, in which he affirmed that the war was brought on by the government sending supplies to Fort Sumter! Other copper-bottom sentiments were ventilated by him, ending with the declaration that the people were about to protest against the enemy, tyranny, "if not at the ballot box, then in some other way."

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE.—

THE WORST OF IT.—For the information of those who "believe in calling things by their right names," we put on record the fact that in a scientific parlance, a "Copperhead" is scientifically a Crinocephalus constrictor—so called because these serpents have triangles in the head, and are remarkable for their constrictions whenever a vigorous war measure is proposed by the administration.—Troy Times.

The Insurrection in Poland.

We have already published some details of the insurrection in Poland. The Russian accounts report that the rebels have been crushed, but Russian official bulletins are not the most reliable in the world. The Warsaw correspondent of the Berlin National Zeitung, writing on the 25th ult., says:

"I can only confirm my account of yesterday, that the country is in complete revolt. On the Warsaw and St. Petersburg line the insurgents have burnt a bridge. All the lines have become insecure, and it will cost the government much trouble to become masters of the movement. The insurgents seem to be about carrying on a guerrilla warfare."

"So far, the rebels; but more important is it for the extension of the revolt, that all the landholders have declared to their peasants that they desire no rent from them, and that all the ground they hold is given to them for the future. The country people now begin to waver, and at many places they already make common cause with the rebels. Altogether it is estimated that 200,000 rebels are in the country."

No REMEDY PROPOSED.—The Washington Chronicle remarks that it must not be forgotten that in all the ravings of the sympathizers against the administration and the war, they propose no remedy; and if they hint at one, it is that the government should consent to its own dissolution, or that the loyal majority should allow the disloyal minority, which began the rebellion, to dictate the terms of peace!

ENCOURAGING.—Says a Washington correspondent: "When congress shall have adjourned sine die a fortnight hence, the administration will doubtless find itself well supplied with available means, its credit sustained by increased sources of revenue, and a conscription law on its statute book which will insure the future re-entrance of the army."

THE SHORTEST WAY TO PEACE.—"When ever our government is assailed," said the lamented Stephen A. Douglas, in his last great speech at Chicago, May 1st, 1861, "when hostile armies are marching under rude and odious banners, the shortest way to peace is the most stupendous and unanimous preparation for war." Let peace democrats put that in their pipe and smoke it.

REMONT.—A telegraphic dispatch from Washington reports that Gen. Fremont has just applied for an "active command," implying thereby that the general has hitherto been idle of his own choice. The truth is that General Fremont reported for duty immediately after he was relieved, and he has since made repeated applications for active service.—N. Y. Post.

Treasonable Gathering.

The New York Evening Post states that a meeting was held in that city on Friday evening whose ostensible purpose was to consult in regard to "the diffusion of political information at the present crisis." Its real object, however, was to raise a fund for the circulation of political ignorance, as of treasonable newspapers and speeches. The rich men of New York are to supply the money, and the recusant editors of the World, the Express and the Journal of Commerce the brains, for an active and unscrupulous campaign against the government of the nation, and in the behalf of a body of rebels now in arms. By means of ready contributions from the purses of the agents of foreign bankers, themselves the special money agents of the continental despots, from the gains of brokers who gamble in stocks or merchandise, and from the coffers of merchants who speculate on the distresses of the country, an enormous fund is to be amassed, out of which purchaseable and ready literary men, editors of naval newspapers, and facile orators are to be paid for undermining the confidence of the soldiers and the community in the only government it is possible for us to have for two years at least. The conspirators mean to do "anything and everything" as one of their speakers said, to break down the loyal party of the nation, and to hand the government over, if they can, to the oligarchs who for nearly two years have been slaughtering our sons, disturbing our peace, arresting our prosperity and threatening the security of our cities and homes.

Such men as Augusto Belmont, Morse, the telegraph man, John F. Andrew, and Curtis, the pro-slavery Boston lawyer, took part in the exercises.

It is for the authorities at Washington to say whether, or not, these conspirators shall be allowed to proceed with their pro-gramme unabashed and unthindered.

How it is DUX.—For several days past says the Madison Journal) some of the democratic radicals in the assembly have been presenting petitions from different portions of the state, against compensated emancipation and for the passage of a law prohibiting free negroes from coming into the state.

The modus operandi by which this "spontaneous movement" of the masses has been effected, is thus naively stated by the Chicago Journal:

"We have received from the faithful representative in this district in the Assembly, Mr. Carl Zillier, a petition to the legislature in favor of white men, and opposing the purchase and introduction of the negro into our state, with the request that such petition be presented to the democratic club of this city for their signatures. It will be presented as desired, at the next meeting, and we trust every member will sign it."

EARLY OPINION OF THE MISSISSIPPI.—Present appearances seem to indicate an unusually early opening of lake navigation. There is little prospect that the already limited quantity of ice will be increased to any extent. The La Crosse Democrat has the following in reference to the Upper Mississippi:

"We predict the river will be free from ice and steamers running by the middle of March. Of course no one will regret an early opening of the river, and the resumption of business that follows."

A REBEL GENERAL'S MANSION DESTROYED.—The mansion belonging to the rebel Gen. Stuart, situated in Chantilly in Fairfax county, Va., has recently been destroyed by fire.

At about the time of the revolution, by Dr. David Smart (grandfather of the present general of that name) was one of the finest in that section of Virginia, and the funds belonging to the estate among the best cultivated in the state. For some time past the house has been occupied, first by Gen. Stuart, and then by Col. Wyndham, as their headquarters.

Dr. David Smart, the original owner of the estate of Chantilly, was a distinguished physician and patriot of the revolution, and colleague, in the Virginia house of burgesses, of the Lee's, Bartrams, Henrys and Careys. He was one of the presidential electors who voted for Washington for president, and between whom the most intimate relations existed. He was also the executor of the estate of John Paul Curtis, Mrs. Washington's first husband. His correspondence with Washington and other noted men of the revolution was extensive, and preserved with the most scrupulous care by his descendants until the present war.

Since the flight of Smart from his home, the papers have been ransacked, and all of any value carried away by autograph collectors. Such is the fate of war. How the house caught fire remains mystery, but it is thought it was destroyed by White's guerrillas.

THE REBEL IN TENNESSEE.—There is a remarkable concurrence among all the accounts we receive in relation to the difficulty the rebels are experiencing in the enforcement of their edicts and infamous impressment law in Tennessee. The rebel conscription law, so called, is not a conscription law at all, but an edict, whereby every man, between the ages of 18 and 60 (we believe that is the range) is declared to be a soldier in the southern army. Its enforcement consists in simply sending out a troop of cavalry to seize every white-headed white man that can be found, and force him into the ranks. A letter from a member of the board of trade battery of this city, written at Murfreesboro on the 11th inst., says "this conscript law is raising a terrible disturbance with those who are not in the rebel army. Yesterday there came into our lines five hundred soldiers, who had deserted from Bragg's army. They say the woods are full of conscripts and deserters, who are trying to get to our lines for protection. Some say they have been in the woods three months!"—Chicago Post.

AN ENGLISH RURAL CLERGYMAN PREACHED A REMARKABLY FIE SERMON, and some of his parishioners said it ought to be printed, and every man in the kingdom should read it. He was as much pleased, that he sent it to London to a leading publishing house, and ordered it published, making his calculation for the edition on the number of families in England and Scotland. At the end of six months he was nearly frightened to death by receiving a bill making him debtor for a million or more sermons at a shilling each, some £50,000, crediting him with ten copies sold, and requiring him to remit the balance. He did not sleep, but went up to London the next day, when the publisher relieved his agony by telling him that they had printed only a hundred copies, for which they would charge him nothing.

N. Y. Observer.

A BRILLIANT IDEA.—Ex-Gov. Seymour, of Connecticut, recently made a speech in Hartford, in which he affirmed that the war was brought on by the government sending supplies to Fort Sumter! Other copper-bottom sentiments were ventilated by him, ending with the declaration that the people were about to protest against executive tyranny, "if not at the ballot box, then in some other way."

Omeoia Union Passenger Depot

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, Feb. 23.—Special to Chicago Journal.—From passengers who left Columbus this forenoon, I learn that a telegram had been received at that place from Memphis to the effect that on the 8th our mortar beats, lying above Vicksburg, had commenced bombarding the town. We are at a loss to say whether this was the beginning of a general engagement, or whether it is to feel of the enemy.

The Ohio river is rising very fast at this point.

On the 18th a force of a hundred and fifty Confederate cavalry attacked a forage train of ten wagons from Memphis and captured it. Another train was attacked at the Lafayette depot without loss. We hear also of another train being captured near Mosecord, on Tuesday. The First Tennessee Cavalry captured near Jackson, Tennessee, twelve of Capt. Longstreet's guerrillas. Eight of them had taken the oaths of allegiance, and had it in their pockets. They will be sent to Alton.

The gunboat Indianola run by the batteries at Vicksburg without receiving a single shot. She had on board 17,000 bushels of coal for her own use. She proceeded at once down the river, her destination being New Orleans. She has plenty of provision, ammunition, &c., and big anticipations are indulged as to what she will accomplish.

The last boat from Vicksburg reports rebel batteries on both sides of the river at Cypress Bend. They are not considered formidable.

A brother of Gen. Forrest at Memphis, informs the Bulletin that the general has died of wounds received at Donelson.

The crew of the steamer Hercules have arrived. They were taken back some ten miles and paraded. The guerrillas returned next day, after burning her and sinking three barges loaded with coal. This, together with other outrages, and the fact that they were harbored by citizens of Hopfield, induced the federal authorities to burn that town, which they did last Thursday.

The steamer Mill Boy was sent over to take on board the women and children, when the torch was unrelentingly applied.

We have received from the faithful representative in this district in the Assembly, Mr. Carl Zillier, a petition to the legislature in favor of white men, and opposing the purchase and introduction of the negro into our state, with the request that such petition be presented to the democratic club of this city for their signatures. It will be presented as desired, at the next meeting, and we trust every member will sign it.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 21.—

Special to Chicago Journal.—A Calcutta paper states that a rebel pirate is cruising in the Bay of Bengal. Her commander declared he would destroy every vessel leaving Calcutta under the federal flag.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—

The steamer Pacific, from Havana, 17th,

has arrived. The British steamer Alice arived at Havana from Mobile, with 800 bales of cotton. She reports she didn't find the harbor of Havana.

FORTRESS MONROE, Feb. 23.—

The Richmond Weekly Enquirer of the 18th says that the confederacy was duped

by the recent account of the breaking of the blockade at Charleston, and says the account was untrue in every particular;

and moreover, the Princess Royal, laden with the most valuable cargo that ever ever left Charleston, was captured the night before and lay only a mile and a half from the shore during the conflict, and yet our victorious iron-clads did not rescue her.

An official inquiry is to be made into the mishap.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 21.—

Authentic advices say that the rebel army is in the vicinity of McMinnville,

Tenn. Rumors speak of the rebel forces in the vicinity of Richmond, Ky.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—

SENATE—Evening Session.—The senate

reconsidered the consideration of the bill for the discharge of state prisoners. Mr. Richardson moved an amendment, limiting the operation of the act to March 1st, 1864.

Mr. Collier offered an amendment, so as to allow the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus without making a proclamation. Adopted.

Mr. Trumbull's substitute was then adopted—yeas 25, nays 22.

The bill then passed. Adjourned.

London, Feb. 6th.—A Calcutta paper

states that a rebel pirate is cruising in the Bay of Bengal, leaving the harbor of Calcutta to be a high-spirited horse,

which was let loose among the chapparal.

The poor fellow was thus borne several miles, the thorns and points of the prickly pear lacerating his body in a shocking manner. Weak and bleeding, he was taken across the Rio Grande to San Ignacio to be hung.

FINDING IT IMPOSSIBLE TO OBTAIN FOOD ON THE ROAD, Washington dispatched Clum to Camargo for a permit to travel. He was taken prisoner by the rebels, stripped naked and bound to a high-spirited horse, which was let loose among the chapparal.

Mr. Montgomery's Lecture.

Those who heard (and they were a host, for the hall was completely filled even to the crowding of the stage,) Mr. Montgomery's lecture last evening will not soon forget it. Without any pretensions to oratory, unprepossessing in his appearance, with no experience as a public speaker until he has been called to recount his own sufferings and the terrors of the rebellion in the south, his language often ungraceful, mixed with idioms of the south, sometimes disfigured by a vulgarity or an oath, he yet held spell-bound as intelligent an audience as ever assembled anywhere or on any occasion in Janesville for an hour and three-quarters. His lecture throughout was marked with sudden transitions; the humorous, the sarcastic, the pathetic, the fierce denunciation of personal and public outrages, the simple recital and graphic description, were strangely and continually blended, interspersed occasionally with genuine eloquence and real beauty. The novelty of the style and the variety of the topics added much to the intrinsic value of the subject matter, and all contributed to make the lecture a remarkable one to a northern audience. Its effect must be beneficial, and we know of no better sphere for Mr. Montgomery than the one in which he is now laboring.

We should be glad to give a report of this lecture which would do justice to it and the lecturer, but it would be as impossible as to hold and analyze a piece of chain lightning. We can only command him to our friends everywhere, and advise them to secure his services wherever they can obtain them.

Box for the Twenty-Second Regiment.

A box will be packed for company E, 22d regiment Wisconsin volunteers, at Geo. Benton's cigar store, on Saturday, February 28th. Packages and articles must all be in by 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

NOTICE TO CARPENTERS.—At a preliminary meeting of the carpenters of the city of Janesville, it was resolved that a general invitation be extended to every carpenter in this city to attend a meeting on Friday evening next, the 27th inst., at 7 o'clock, in the council room, in Jackman & Smith's block, to take into consideration the best mode to be adopted to obtain an advance in their wages. It is expected that every carpenter will attend. fe24d1d PROFANATION OF WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—The democratic club of this city used the occasion of Washington's birthday to assemble its copperhead organization and read his farewell address. If Washington could have been present at this meeting of men who are willing to baselessly compromise away the government he fought to establish, he would have as indignantly ordered its dispersion as the Savior of the World cleared his temple of the money-changers who polluted its sacred vestibule.

KENTUCKY.—At a meeting of the Union members of the Kentucky legislature, on motion of Judge Underwood, it was recommended to the Union democracy of Kentucky that they assemble in convention, through their delegates, in the city of Louisville, on the 18th day of March next, and nominate suitable persons as candidates to fill the various state offices, to be chosen at the next August election.

The "peace men on any terms" favor a national convention to amend the constitution so as to depose President Lincoln. We shall, therefore, expect to hear no more in that quarter about "the Union as it was and the constitution as it is." To conciliate traitors they are willing to destroy the work of the fathers!

GOON.—Gov. Stanley, of North Carolina, is among the ills. His earnest reverence for slavery and slaveholders made Stanley's Unionism a negative article. Our soldiers suffered more from his policy than the rebels did. Gen. Foster became disgusted with him, and it is understood protested against having a meddlesome civilian standing in his way and hampering all his operations.

PIKE'S PEAK GOLD.—There was deposited in the United States assay office in New York, during the year 1862, gold dust, amalgam, &c., received from Pike's Peak, to the amount of $8,521,000.

Another Letter from Mr. Bennett.

Errors Galore.—My name has been used somewhat extensively in your paper of late, which I do not like. I wish to have you print the following:

1st. That I did authorize the publication of my letter to Mr. Richardson, and all that was said in that letter.

2d. That I never told Guy Carter not any one else to contradict said letter. The Ohio Drill that I bought of Carter was excessively hard for my team. It has been altered, but I have not used it, and can't determine if it is any better or not. The reason of my paying for the drill in advance was that I got a large discount on my note.

JOHN BENNETTE.

January 15th, 1863.

Mr. Richardson, Sir.—In answer to your inquiry about the drill I bought of you I would say that it was a twelve tooth drill. I drilled two hundred acres with it, averaging twenty acres per day. I used the drill in the same field and at the same time with a nine tooth eastern drill and am confident that your twelve tooth does just as good work and drew easier than the eastern nine tooth.

As to the corn planting, I would say that I had a field of fifty acres that was in very bad condition to plant. I used the drill to plant the whole of it, part of it did not come in consequence of bad seed. The early season looked as unfavorable for corn that I did not give it any attention. I only expended one day labor on the whole field, planting and hoing. I had one hundred bushels of ears per acre, which did not cost me to seed, five cents per bushel in the crib—Your drill worked to my entire satisfaction, both in wheat and corn.
